

	Political Quality	Pag. 1 of 1
		Rev. 6	30/05/2017
		General Direction

Eurospray operates in the field of metallic containers, in particular empty tin-plate aerosol cans.

Eurospray, in its field of activity, avails itself of the help of highly experienced staff. Since the beginning the company is facing up with the constant changes that characterise the aerosol market, focusing for this on the research of a serious professionalism. The technological investments and quality of production allow to reach to quick solution of problems that are submitted to the market attention: this type of approach has guaranteed the actual stability in the sector.

The current context in which the company is operating is characterised by a high competition which is always more oriented to the research of the maximum price decline of the realized products, sometimes also to the detriment of quality, and to a continuous fluctuation of the price of the raw material chosen by the few companies that supply the metallic material used by Eurospray.

To answer appropriately to the risk related to this context, Eurospray primary aim is to be recognised as a qualified and reliable producer and supplier in time, for a global and long lasting customer satisfaction, both in terms of characteristics of the sold items and services. In particular, distributing, through efficient and innovative equipment and qualified suppliers, reliable products, compliant to the sector rules and the client expectations.

These aims can be reached only through a constant check of the inside process and a continuous adjustment of them and of the company structure.

In this field Eurospray has adapted the quality system required by UNI EN ISO 9001 which has been integrated with the requirements for the food security established by Regg. CE n.1935/2004 and n.2023/2006 for products destined for alimentary contact.

Eurospray's direction has undertaken precise commitments so that the client requirement and his expectations are clearly defined and the full satisfaction is reached through specific activities.

To guarantee the satisfaction of the quality of products required by Eurospray, the customer satisfaction and the continuous improvement, all the stages of production are constantly monitored.

Eurospray's general direction assigns proper resources – regarding the equipment and staff opportunely trained – for the execution and the verification of all the activities that have an effect on the quality.

	Political Quality	Pag. 2 of 2
		Rev. 6	30/05/2017
		General Direction

To guarantee the satisfaction of the requirement for the quality of the product, the customer complacency and the constant improvement, all the stages of production are constantly executed under control.

- Systematical re-examination of the contract to assure that the definition of the products to deliver is correct.
- Careful description of the modality of production and the product checkout.
- Use of machinery of a proper level and carefully maintained measuring stability and quality level of the product process.
- Definition of adequate targets and programs (ex. Optimisation of the traceability process) as well as the compliance of the legislation in force applicable in matter of workplace hygiene and supervision of material with alimentary destination.
- Use of instruments for précised controls adapted to the measures to carried out and opportunely calibrated.
- Selection of reliable suppliers, able to provide products and/or services of appropriate quality.
- Implements of corrective and preventive actions to avoid the recur of problems and improvement plans for a constant progress of the company performance.
- Measurements / check-up of the factors which affect on the clients satisfaction or dissatisfaction

All this leads to a total involvement of the company functions and of all the staff that has to feel part of the results obtained through his contribution and grow with the company.

Eurospray's general direction recognises the contribution of every simple component of the organisation for the obtaining of the service global quality and shores and approves every effort due to the improvement of quality.

The actual Policy is pursued through the identification of specific and consistent aims updated in the occasion of the periodical re-examination of the management system for the quality by the General Direction.